GENEALOGY
of the
DESCENDANTS OF MARCENA GLEZEN

Center Lisle, Broome County, N. Y.

Compiled by

INTRODUCTION

The within compilation was begun in 1966, at which time, J. Carver Glezen, the writer, of Whitney Point, Broome County, N. Y., was presented by his son, John C. Glezen, an attomey of Hartford, Connecticut, with a bound volume of the "Genealogy of the Descendants of Thomas Gleason" (same as 'Glezen'), which he had, by good fortune, found in a small book shop in Boston, Massachusetts. This book was published by John Barber White, himself a Gleason descendant, in 1909, and covers the period from 1607 to 1909. It is a most comprehensive and well chronicled history of the descendants of "Thomas Gleason" (variously spelled "Glezen", "Gleazen", etc.), the common ancestor, and states that Thomas was bom in 1607, probably in Sulgrave, Northampton County. England. He later emigrated from England to Massachusetts, U.S.A., thereby establishing the AMERICAN FIRST GENERATION OF GLEASONS (Glezens) in this country.

It is further stated that Thomas (lst) had nine children, among whom was John Gleason (Glezen), bom in Watertown, Massachusetts, in 1647, thereby establishing the SECOND GENERATION.

John (2nd) was a soli er in King Philip's War and had four children, among whom was Thomas Gleason (Glezen), bom in Sudbury, Massachusetts, in 1686, thereby establishing the THIRD GENERATION.

y Thomas (3rd) had eleven children, among whom was Solomon Gleason (Glezen), bom in Shrewsbury, Massachusetts, on March 13, 1732-3, therby establishing the FOURTH GENERATION. Solom on carried Lydia Whittlesey, a name which oecurs later herein.

Solomon (4th) had eight children, among whom was Ezra Whittlesey Gleason (Glezen), 'bom on July 5, 1773, in Lenox, Berkshire County, Massachusetts, thereby establishing the FIFTH GENERATION. On February 4, 1796, Ezra'V*.married Wealtha Hawley, who was bom December 15, 1779. They moved from Lenox, Massachusetts, to Center Lisle, Broome County, New York, in 1800, making the journey with an ox team drawing a sled or stone boat. They settled in a dense hemlock forest which he cleared into a farm where they lived for afmost fifty years. Ezra W. died July 11, 1849. Wealtha died October 8, 1850. They are buried in the cemetery at Center Lisle, Broome County, New York, where all their children were bom.

$ Ezra W. Glezen (5th) and Wealtha had nine children, among whom was Marcena, bom in Berkshire County, Massachusetts, on JanuaryQ, 1797, thereby establishing the SIXTH GENERATION.

It is, accordingly, noted that following the incoming of Ezra W. Glezen and his family to Center Lisle, New York, in 1800, the "Gleason" or "Glezen" clan thereupon became, and thereafter was, based at Center Lfsle, Broome County, New York, and most of Ezra W. Olezen's descendants spelled their name "Glezen".

In October, 1818, Marcena married Matilda Briggs, who was bom in £t,idd1eborough, Massachusetts, on April 19, 1797, and died December 10, 1867. Marcena served as

Matilda's Parents - Abiathen + Joanna: 2
son Abiathen 9/9/1790, Da. Polly 7/23/1792, Son Stephen 7/18/1794, Rebecca + Matilda
April 19, 1797

Supervisor of the Town of Lisle, Bzoome County, N. Y., in 1855. Following the death of his wife, Matilda, he came to live with his son, John Carver Glezen, on the farm which has been in the Glezen family well over one hundred years and which is now owned by Robert Glezen. Marcena died on November 11, 1875, and both he and his wife and their children are buried in the cemetery at Center Lisle, New York.

I Marcena and Matilda had six children, all born in Center Lisle, New York, whose names and dates of birth are as follows:

Jane Matilda, born January 21, 1S23.
Marshall Marcena, born April 5, 1826.
JWilliam Jarvis, born May 13, 1828.
Emma Ann, born August 16, 1830.
John Carver, born October 18, 1832.
Charles Arad, born January 18, 1835.

These children have thus established and constitute the SEVENTH CiENERATION.

It is of the descendants of MARCENA GLEZEN that the writer is a part and of which this for.theoming genealogy is being prepared.

In its preparation we are most appreciative of the data as given in Air. White's publication, carrying us through the period from 1607 to 1909, without which we would have lacked much of the incentive, and from which all the data heretofore related herein has been taken. Indeed, our mission and intent in this work is to supplement the White publication from 1909 to the present time, but necessarily limiting our efforts to establishing the pedigree line of 'Marcena Glezen'. In this we have called upon many, many of his descendants, both young and old, and have received their ready cooperation. For all such aid we are truly grateful.

As our time and inclination have permitted, we have already spent over three years in time gathering data of births and. deaths, during all of which time the stork and the Angel Gabriel have been, and are presently, z'orking ceaselessly, causing us to add to and revise our records from time to time. \Ve must, however, conclude and finalize our endeavors and we realize there may be some data unavailable to us and some blank spots and possibly some errors or missing information. We regret and ask indulgence for such failures.

Throughout our research we have become much better acquainted with our forebears and with the hardships which they met and overcame in rearing the large families as related herein, all of which has brought to us a keen realization of the fiber and strength of our heritage. This knowledge is quite rewarding and we truthfully say that we have enjoyed the work.

We dedicate this publication to those good, stalwart men and women whose heritage has been passed on to us and accept it as a challenge to carry on and uphold the pattern so set for us.

Dated at Whitney Point, New York, this 31st day of December, 1969.

MA RSHA LL MARCE NA G LEZEN
Tth Generation

MARSHALL MARCENA GLE ZEN (Seventh Generation) was the oldest of Marcena's boys. He was a carpenter and wood worker by trade and an all-around good fellow by nature. We are presently assured by Grace L. Tibbitts, one of his few living grandchildren, of his many acts of kindness to her family and to her and other children. He is well remembered as a most interesting story teller and on occasions is alleged to have veered a bit from the facts in order to make a better story. This made him popular with children in his neighborhood. He also enjoyed a good argument with older folk and particularly with his brothers, John Carver and Charles Arad.

He was born April 5, 1826, and died August 13, 1899. He married Emeline Frances Livermore, who was born March 11, 1826, and died March 5, 1922. During most of their married life they lived near Center Lisle, Broome County, N. Y., where their children were born and reared. They had five children (Eighth Generation) as follows:

1. Russell Livermore Glezen, born March 1, 1850, and died April 8, 1860.
2. Lewis Marshall Glezen, born March 21, 1852, died in 1915.
3. Frank Emerson Glezen, born June 13, 1854, died April 4, 1924.
4. Sarah Emeline Glezen Quinlivan, born October 30, 1860, died July 3, 1928.
5. James Russell Glezen, born August 27, 1863, died December 2, 1942.

1. Russell Livermore Glezen died in infancy without issue.

2. Lewis Marshall Glezen married Emmagene Olds October 31, 1870. She was born January 11, 1855, and died in 1930. They lived and died in or near Brisben, Chenango County, N. Y., and are buried in the Upper Brisben Cemetery. It is believed they had no issue.

3. Frank Emerson Glezen was married three times. He first married Mary Rood. Later, and on June 23, 1874, he married Emmabelle Clark, who was born May 9, 1859, and died February 4, 1878. Thereafter, and on October 13, 1880, he married Jennie E. Lobdell, who was born February 21, 1850, and died at the age of 93 years. Frank E. and Emmabelle C. Glezen had one child and he and Jennie E. Glezen had two children (Ninth Generation) as follows:

3a. Belle Clark Barrows, daughter of Emmabelle Clark, born February 2, 1878.
3b. Grace L. Glezen Tibbitts, daughter of Jennie E. Lobdell, born July 22, 1882.
3c. Edith Mary Glezen, daughter of Jennie E. Lobdell, born January 4, 1886.

3a. Belle Clark married Ernest J. Bmows June 15, 1895. He died May 22, 1958, and she died October 25, 1959. They had two children (Tenth Generation) as follows:

Compiler of this Genealogy

JOHN CARVER GLEZEN (Seventh Generation) was the next to the youngest of the children of Marcena Glezen. Although he was born, and always lived, on a farm, it is said that he never was too progressive as a farmer and rather shunned the hard, laborious and tedious duties incident to farming, but preferred to cast these burdens upon his sons as they respectively became old and big enough to assume them. He had, as a matter of fact, utilized all the opportunities available in schooling and educating himself, and in his younger years taught common school for several terms. All through his rather long life he was an incessant reader and was well informed and highly respected.

He was born October 18, 1832, and died January 24, 1919. On different occasions he reminded his grandson, the writer and his namesake, that he was born one hundred years after the birth of George Washington, and also that he had, on one occasion, shaken the hand of a man who had shaken the hand of Washington.

He married Martha A. Brown on December 22, 1857. She was born in 1836 and died October 8th, 1873, at the age of 36 years. On June 28, 1876, he married Jane Woolford, of Albion, Orleans County, N. Y. She was born August 15, 1847, and died February 18, 1943. The writer well recalls Grandma Jane's relation of an incident in which she was minutely involved in the Lincoln-Douglas presidential campaign of 1860. At the time, she was attending a girls' school in Albion and was a member of the “Lincoln Girls” Club who had received invitation (to the exclusion of the “Douglas Girls” Club) to welcome the Lincoln campaign special train bearing the Republican nominee as it stopped on its way across New York State. We may well imagine the thrill which was given this then 13 year old girl as then and there this tall, sad faced, stoop-shouldered man emerged from the rear coach, descended from the car steps and casually patted her and others on the head as he delivered his short campaign remarks.

John Carver Glezen had by his first wife, Martha A. Brown, five children, and by his second wife, Jane Woodford, three children (Eighth Generation) as follows:

EMMA A. (GLEZEN) MOYLAN (Seventh Generation) was born August 16, 1830, at Center Lisle, Broome County, N. Y. She was the younger of the two daughters of Marcena Glezen. She married James Moylan, who was born in Ireland and immigrated to Center Lisle, Broome County, N. Y., as a very young man. It is not known exactly when they were married. Certainly it was after June 21, 1861, as on that date she signed hex name "Emma A. Glezen" as a witness to the signatures of Marcena and Matilda Glezen upon a deed by them of the old "Glezen Homestead" farm to John Carver Glezen. This would indicate that she was then single and living in the household of her parents or of her brother, John Carver Glezen.

We do know that she and James Moylan were married prior to September fi£i, 1873, when their niece, Martha, daughter of John Carver and Martha A. Glezen, was born and that, following the death of the mother, Martha A. Glezen, on October 8, 1873, Mr. and Mrs. Moylan took their infant niece, Martha, into their home and reared her during her infancy, all with the full consent and approval of John Carver Glezen.

Emma A. Glezen Moylan died March 31, 1882, and is buried in the cemetery at Center Lisle, N. Y. James Moylan died May 22, 1905, and is buried in the Catholic Cemetery at Whitney Point, N. Y. They had no children of their own, but throughout their lifetimes they treated their niece, Martha, as they would have their own, and Martha continued to live in the Moylan household, even following the death of Emma A. Moylan, until her marriage to James Brown.

Accordingly, we believe that the genealogy of John Carver Glezen and of his sister, Emma A. Glezen Moylan, mingle in part and should be viewed together.
